THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL
FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

'Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns φωναντα συνετοισιν, undreamt of by "the forty"—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson.'—Quarterly Review.

By J. C. TARVER, late French Master, Eton College.

'Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver .... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns ą̀ travers travers, undreamt of by "the forty"—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson.'—Quarterly Review.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

'Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver . . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns d'esprit et d'argot, undreamt of by "the forty"—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson.'—Quarterly Review.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

'Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phraseology by M. Tarver. . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns of phrase courroucer, undreamt of by "the forty"—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson.'—Quarterly Review.

The Rights of Property, including the Laws relating to Property, both Real and Personal, and Conveyancing.

At the Classes held on Thursdays the Reader will treat of the following subjects:—

Rights in Private Relations (such as parent and child, husband and wife, guardian and ward).
Public Rights, Civil, Ecclesiastical, and Social.
Civil Injuries and their Redress, including proceedings in Civil Actions in all branches of the Supreme Court of Judicature and in the Inferior Courts of Justice.
Crimes and the Criminal Law and Process.

Students are expected themselves to read the text-book, as the Reader, owing to the time at his disposal being limited, must necessarily confine himself to pointing out, elucidating, and illustrating such difficulties as the subject may present, and emphasizing what is of practical importance.

Students who attend both on Mondays and on Thursdays will be able, in one year, to gain a complete introductory knowledge of law and of all the branches of law and practice. Those Students who have it in their power to give a longer time to the study of Elementary Law will have the opportunity of so doing affording to them by attending, in one year, the Lectures on Mondays only, and attending those on the Thursdays in the following year. It is recommended that all Students, who can do so, will thus extend their studies over two years, instead of compressing their consideration of so large and many-sided a work as Stephen's Commentaries into the space of one legal year.

To all those Students who have attended the Class in Elementary Law which has been held between the months of January and July, 1879, a valuable opportunity is afforded, by attending the Classes to be held on Thursdays, of continuing the studies which were interrupted by the Long Vacation. If they join the Classes about to be held on Thursdays they will complete their survey of the entire subject, except only that part which relates to the Law of Personal Property.

The subscription payable for the Elementary Law Classes is as follows:—

—	For the Classes on Mondays or Thursdays. £ s. d.	For all the Classes. £ s. d.
By Clerks of Members	3 3 0	5 5 0
By Clerks of Gentlemen not Members	4 4 0	6 6 0

THE WEEKLY REPORTER.

ESTABLISHED 1852. PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY.

The WEEKLY REPORTER contains full reports of the facts, arguments, and judgments in all the important cases decided in the House of Lords, the Privy Council, the Court of Appeal, each of the Divisions of the High Court, and the Court of Bankruptcy. Every effort is made to publish the reports as speedily after the decision of the cases as possible; at the same time accuracy and fulness are not sacrificed to mere speed, the reports being intended not merely as information of recent decisions, but as authorities to be preserved and consulted by barristers and solicitors in their actual practice. Special attention is given to insure the prompt reporting of cases relating to practice, costs, the duties and liabilities of solicitors, and questions of a similar character. All the reports are contributed by members of the bar. Subscribers to the WEEKLY REPORTER receive a copy of the Annual Digest, and a copy of all the important statutes of the year.

The First Number of Volume XXVIII. published October 31st.

THE WEEKLY REPORTER DIGEST.

PUBLISHED ANNUALLY IN NOVEMBER. PRICE 10s. 6d.

The WEEKLY REPORTER DIGEST forms part of the annual volume of the WEEKLY REPORTER. It is also published in a separate form, and when so published comprises, in addition to the list of cases and digest, all the statutes of the year which are of any practical importance. The DIGEST gives all the cases reported during the year in any of the four sets of English law reports, or in the authorized Irish reports. The cases are carefully classified, and arranged according to their subjects; and the exact point decided in each case is given with references to the volume and page in all the reports in which it has been published. A list of all the cases is also given in alphabetical order, and all the referenced are similarly given in this list. The DIGEST also shows all the statutes which have formed the subject of decisions during the year, with references to such decisions, and a like course is adopted with respect to the orders and rules under the Judicature Acts. The DIGEST is compiled by EDMUND FULLER GRIFFIN, ESQ., B.A., OXON., Barrister-at-Law.

Court of Common Pleas. Eighth Edition. By R. HENN COLLINS and R. G. ARBUTHNOT, Esqrs., Barristers-at-Law.

In 2 vols., 8vo., price £2 10s., cloth.

KEY AND ELPHINSTONE'S COMPENDIUM OF PRECEDENTS IN CONVEYANCING. Comprising the Forms required in Ordinary Practice. By THOMAS KEY, one of the Editors of "Davidson's Precedents;" and HOWARD WARBURTON ELPHINSTONE, formerly Lecturer to the Incorporated Law Society; both of Lincoln's Inn, Barristers-at-Law.

"An examination of the work has convinced us that it really supplies a mass of fresh material which every conveyancer will find a most useful addition to his library. . . . We can thoroughly recommend the book to both branches of the profession, but more especially to solicitors, who will find it a valuable aid for ready use in all ordinary conveyancing practice."—Law Magazine.

Seventh Edition, royal 8vo., price £1 18s., cloth.

LEWIN'S (THOS.) LAW OF TRUSTS.—A Practical Treatise on the Law of Trusts. Seventh Edition. By F. A. LEWIN, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-Law, and late Fellow of Caius College, Cambridge.

8vo., price £1 11s. 6d., cloth.

BROOM'S SELECTION OF LEGAL MAXIMS. Fifth Edition.

Fifth Edition, price £1 11s. 6d., cloth.

BROOM'S COMMENTARIES ON THE COMMON LAW, designed as Introductory to its Study. By HERBERT BROOM, LL.D., Barrister-at-Law, late Professor of Common Law to the Inns of Court.

NOTE.—The Judicature Acts now in operation having necessitated very material alterations in this Edition, the First Book has been, so far as it concerns Practice, entirely re-written and adapted to the present mode of procedure.

In 1 vol., 8vo., price £1 11s. 6d., cloth.

BROOM'S LEADING CASES OF CONSTITUTIONAL LAW. Viewed in Relation to Common Law, and Exemplified by Cases. By HERBERT BROOM, LL.D., Barrister-at-Law, late Professor of Common Law to the Inns of Court.

"The author's qualifications for his task are well known to all lawyers, and to many of the general public, from his previous works on 'Legal Maxims,' and his 'Commentaries on the Common Law.' He has clearly spared no labour in the production of this work, and there can be no doubt that he has presented to us a most important addition to the library of the constitutional lawyer and historian."—Athenæum.

Second Edition, crown 8vo., price 6s., cloth.

BROOM'S PHILOSOPHY OF LAW; being Notes of Lectures delivered at the Inner Temple Hall during twenty-three years, 1852-75. Adapted for Students and the public. By HERBERT BROOM, LL.D., late Professor of Common Law to the Inns of Court.

"There is no doubt that Dr. Broom aims at a consummation devoutly to be wished. Without wishing to make new lawyers, it is nevertheless highly desirable that English gentlemen should have some knowledge of English law, its philosophy or rationale. We think that this volume of some three hundred pages might easily be mastered by a careful student in a short time, and that in the result he would not have an inadequate idea of English jurisprudence, and be sensible of a distinct intellectual gain. Where we have examined Dr. Broom's work we have been struck with the way in which he elucidates difficult subjects and traces principles of law through varying applications. They are very safe and pleasant legal essays."—The Globe.

Second Edition, in 1 vol., royal 12mo., price 21s., cloth.

HEYWOOD'S PRACTICE of the COUNTY COURTS; comprising the whole Practice, except in Admiralty and Bankruptcy. The Sections of the Judicature Act applying to County Courts, and the whole of the County Court Statutes, and the Rules, Orders, Forms, and Scales of Fees and Costs, are printed in the Appendices. Second Edition, entirely re-written and greatly enlarged. By GEORGE WASHINGTON HEYWOOD, of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

". . . . We may say at once, as the result of the tests we have applied, that we have found the information full and accurate, and the statements cautious. The book, in fact, seems to have had unusual care and pains bestowed upon it; and, while increasing in bulk, it has not lost the terseness of statement which characterised the former edition. The arrangement of the matter in the different chapters is, with few exceptions, excellent, and it is very easy to find your way in the book."—Solicitors' Journal.

In 1 vol., 8vo., price 11. 10s., cloth.

FLOOD ON THE LAW RELATING TO WILLS OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.—A Treatise on the Law of Wills relating to Personal Property, and Subjects appertaining thereto. By J. C. H. FLOOD, of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

"Contains everything which can render it valuable, either as a text-book for the student, or a book of reference for the practising lawyer. . . . . A few more works equal to the present, should he have leisure to write them, would entitle Mr. Flood to rank among the foremost of our legal writers."—Saturday Review.

8vo., price 16s., cloth.

MAXWELL (Sir P. BENSON) on the INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES.

"This is an admirable book, excellent in its method and arrangement, and clear and thorough in its treatment of the different questions involved. . . . . The work will be found of great practical utility, as affording a key to the method adopted by our Courts in the construction of statutes, and it will be of much value as showing the uniformity which has in general marked the application of the principles of interpretation to a vast variety of legislative enactments."—Law Magazine.

Fourth Edition, in 2 vols., royal 8vo., price £3 15s., cloth.

LINDLEY'S (Sir N.) LAW of PARTNERSHIP.—A TREATISE ON THE LAW OF PARTNERSHIP, including its application to Joint-Stock and other Companies. By Sir NATHANIEL LINDLEY, one of the Judges of H.M.'s High Court of Justice.

"The main changes in this edition are, of course, in the portions relating to legal procedure. Book 2, chapter 3, on actions between partnerships and companies and non-members; and book 3, chapter 10, on actions between partnerships and companies and their members, and between the members themselves, have been re-cast, and now contains a singularly clear, practical, and concise exposition of the changes effected by the Judicature Act. We may say in general of this edition that it is refreshing to find the old characteristics of the book still conspicuous in the treatment of new matter. Difficulties are neither evaded nor dismissed with the dogmatic assurance or easy flippancy to be met with in certain recent law books. We have almost always here a conscientious effort to help the reader to the meaning and limits of doctrines and legislative provisions, and to point out to him the pitfalls—in short, to anticipate as far as possible the process of judicial interpretation."—Solicitors' Journal.

Price 1s. 6d., sewed.

INTERROGATORIES. Rules relating to the Law of DISCOVERY and INSPECTION, now administered in the High Court of Justice. By H. WYATT HART, and ERNEST ELLOART, of the Inner Temple, Barristers-at-Law.

"Mr. Wyatt Hart and Mr. E. Elloart have devoted themselves to the extraction from recent judgments of the Rules now obtaining in the High Court of Justice relating to the Law of Discovery and Inspection. Wherever the Rules thus formulated have appeared to require comment, this has been added beneath the text by the editors, who deserve praise for the care which they have bestowed on a work which they have yet brought within pocket dimensions."—Law Magazine.

Fourth Edition, price 14s., cloth.

HAYNES'S OUTLINES of EQUITY: being a Series of Elementary Lectures on Equity Jurisdiction delivered at the request of the Incorporated Law Society; with Supplementary Lectures on Certain Doctrines of Equity. By FREEMAN OLIVER HAYNES, of Lincoln's Inn; Barrister-at-Law, and late Fellow of Caius College, Cambridge.

Crown 8vo., price 12s., cloth.

PITT-TAYLOR'S BANKRUPTCY ACT.—The Bankruptcy Act, 1869, and the Decisions thereon; The Bankruptcy Act, 1869, and the Debtors Act, 1869; including the Rules, Orders, and Forms. Illustrated by Notes of all the important Decisions thereon; with careful Cross References and a copious Index. By F. PITT-TAYLOR, of Lincoln's Inn, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

"We have used it in practice and found it extremely handy. . . . . As far as we have tested the result of Mr. Taylor's labours we have found him reliable, and we can confidently recommend his work."—Law Times.

8vo., price 16s., cloth.

DICEY'S PARTIES to an ACTION. A Treatise on the Rules for the Selection of the Parties to an Action. By A. V. DICEY, Esq., the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law, and Fellow of Trinity College, Oxford.

"The volume before us is that rare production of our time, a scientific treatise on a specific branch of the law. . . . . It is a work that will be as welcome in the County Courts as in the Superior Courts, and it is written with the clearness and precision always found where the author has thoroughly mastered his subject."—Law Times.

W. MAXWELL & SON'S LAW PUBLICATIONS

Ready this Month.

DAVIDSON'S PRECEDENTS IN CONVEYANCING. Vol. IV. Third Edition. Containing Wills, and Appointment of New Trustees. By C. DAVIDSON and J. KEY, of Lincoln's Inn, Esqrs., Barristers-at-Law.

Fourth Edition, in 2 vols., royal 8vo., price £3 15s., cloth.

LINDLEY'S (Sir N.) LAW of PARTNERSHIP.—A TREATISE ON THE LAW OF PARTNERSHIP, including its application to Joint-Stock and other Companies. By Sir NATHANIEL LINDLEY, one of the Judges of H.M.'s High Court of Justice.

"The main changes in this edition are, of course, in the portions relating to legal procedure. Book 2, chapter 3, on actions between partnerships and companies and non-members; and book 3, chapter 10, on actions between partnerships and companies and their members, and between the members themselves, have been re-cast, and now contains a singularly clear, practical, and concise exposition of the changes effected by the Judicature Act. We may say in general of this edition that it is refreshing to find the old characteristics of the book still conspicuous in the treatment of new matter. Difficulties are neither evaded nor dismissed with the dogmatic assurance or easy flippancy to be met with in certain recent law books. We have almost always here a conscientious effort to help the reader to the meaning and limits of doctrines and legislative provisions, and to point out to him the pitfalls—in short, to anticipate as far as possible the process of judicial interpretation."—Solicitors' Journal.

In 2 vols., royal 8vo., price £3 15s., cloth.

SMITH'S LEADING CASES. Eighth Edition. A Selection of Leading Cases in various Branches of the Law, with Notes. Third and Fourth Editions. Court of Common Pleas. Eighth Edition. By R. HENN COLLINS and R. G. ARBUTHNOT, Esqrs., Barristers-at-Law.

In 2 vols., 8vo., price £2 10s., cloth.

KEY AND ELPHINSTONE'S COMPENDIUM OF PRECEDENTS IN CONVEYANCING. Comprising the Forms required in Ordinary Practice. By THOMAS KEY, one of the Editors of "Davidson's Precedents;" and HOWARD WARBURTON ELPHINSTONE, formerly Lecturer to the Incorporated Law Society; both of Lincoln's Inn, Barristers-at-Law.

"An examination of the work has convinced us that it really supplies a mass of fresh material which every conveyancer will find a most useful addition to his library. . . . We can thoroughly recommend the book to both branches of the profession, but more especially to solicitors, who will find it a valuable aid for ready use in all ordinary conveyancing practice."—Law Magazine.

Seventh Edition, 2 vols., royal 8vo., price £3 15s., cloth.

TAYLOR'S LAW OF EVIDENCE. A Treatise on the Law of Evidence, as administered in England and Ireland, with Illustrations from the American and other Foreign Laws. By JOHN PITT TAYLOR, Esq., Judge of the County Courts for Lambeth, Greenwich, and Woolwich.

Eleventh Edition, price 18s., cloth.

DAVIDSON'S CONCISE PRECEDENTS. Eleventh Edition. CONCISE PRECEDENTS IN CONVEYANCING, adapted to the Act to amend the Law of Real Property, 8 & 9 Vict. c. 106 with Practical Notes and Observations on the Act, and on the Act for the Cessor of Attendant Terms. By CHARLES DAVIDSON, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-Law, and late Fellow of Christ's College, Cambridge; and HENRY T. S. DICEY, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-Law.

Crown 8vo., price 12s., cloth.

PITT-TAYLOR'S BANKRUPTCY ACT.—The Bankruptcy Act, 1869, and the Decisions thereon; The Bankruptcy Act, 1869, and the Debtors Act, 1869; including the Rules, Orders, and Forms. Illustrated by Notes of all the important Decisions thereon; with careful Cross References and a copious Index. By F. PITT-TAYLOR, of Lincoln's Inn, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

"We have used it in practice and found it extremely handy . . . . As far as we have tested the result of Mr. Taylor's labours we have found him reliable, and we can confidently recommend his work."—Law Times.

8vo., price 16s., cloth.

MAXWELL (Sir P. BENSON) on the INTERPRETA- TION OF STATUTES.

"This is an admirable book, excellent in its method and arrangement, and clear and thorough in its treatment of the different questions involved. . . . . The work will be found of great practical utility, as affording a key to the method adopted by our Courts in the construction of statutes, and it will be of much value as showing the uniformity which has in general marked the application of the principles of interpretation to a vast variety of legislative enactments."—Law Magazine.

Second Edition, in 1 vol., royal 12mo., price 21s., cloth.

HEYWOOD'S PRACTICE of the COUNTY COURTS; comprising the whole Practice, except in Admiralty and Bankruptcy. The Sections of the Judicature Act applying to County Courts, and the whole of the County Court Statutes, and the Rules, Orders, Forms, and Scales of Fees and Costs, are printed in the Appendices. Second Edition, entirely re-written and greatly enlarged. By GEORGE WASHINGTON HEYWOOD, of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

"It is an extremely useful volume, comprehensive and compendious in form. In an introductory chapter, Mr. Heywood explains the operation of the Judicature Acts upon the County Courts, and in the body of his work he makes suggestions wherever they are likely to prove of value with reference to the working of the new system . . . . Our examination has satisfied us that Mr. Heywood has done his work thoroughly."—Law Times.

Price 1s. 6d., sewed, post-free.

INTERROGATORIES. Rules relating to the Law of DISCOVERY and INSPECTION, now administered in the High Court of Justice. By H. WYATT HART, and ERNEST ELLOART, of the Inner Temple, Barristers-at-Law.

"Mr. Wyatt Hart and Mr. E. Elloart have devoted themselves to the extraction from recent judgments of the Rules now obtaining in the High Court of Justice relating to the Law of Discovery and Inspection. Wherever the Rules thus formulated have appeared to require comment, this has been added beneath the text by the editors, who deserve praise for the care which they have bestowed on a work which they have yet brought within pocket dimensions."—Law Magazine.

In 1 vol., 8vo., price 15s. 10s., cloth.

FLOOD ON THE LAW RELATING TO WILLS OF PERSONAL PROPERTY.—A Treatise on the Law of Wills relating to Personal Property, and Subjects appertaining thereto. By J. C. H. FLOOD, of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

"The earliest pages test the author's skill in the difficult operation of tracing a principle through a number of conflicting cases; and certainly his effort to grapple with the decisions upon the subject of donationes mortis causâ is energetic and creditable. The disputable point as to the gift of a cheque is intelligently examined, and his opinions seem confirmed by a decision given since his work went to press—viz., Rolls v. Pearce (46 Law J. Rep. Chanc. 791). The succeeding chapter is of itself a useful treatise on personal property, in which the troublesome doctrine of fixtures is expounded with precision. . . . . A large chapter on 'Executors and Administrators' is not the least valuable part of a work likely to be used by students who, alarmed by the size of the two volumes of Williams on 'Executors,' cannot easily attain enough information from other sources."—The Law Journal.

Price 10s. 6d., cloth.

ELPHINSTONE'S PRACTICAL INTRODUCTION TO CONVEYANCING: containing the substance of Two Courses of Lectures delivered before the Incorporated Law Society in 1868, 1870, and 1871. By HOWARD WARBURTON ELPHINSTONE, of Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-Law.

"The whole volume is replete with instruction, and cannot be too attentively studied by those to whose care the interests of clients as involved in transfer and mortgage of property, marriage settlements, and wills, will be hereafter entrusted."—Law Journal.

8vo., price 6s., cloth; or post-free, 5s. net.

THE LAW OF PROBATE DUTY.—A Digest of the Law of Probate Duty. By ARTHUR FRANCIS LEACH, Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford, and of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law.

"One portion of the little work is a practical dissertation, and the other gives the statutes. It will be found a decidedly useful manual."—Law Times, Aug., 1878.
